To whom it may concern,

I am writing to tell you of the fine qualities of Muhammad Rizwan Asim. I worked with Asim in 2018 on the software development project at the Canberra Institute of Technology in Reid, Canberra. During the time of our project, Asim has proven himself to be punctual, hard working, highly ambitious, responsible, as well as pleasant and respectful to work with.

Asim's ability to pick up and understand the required programming languages was rivalled by none within the project team. I have no doubt of his ability to pick up and understand any programming language or IT based career path he is assigned.

I have no hesitation in recommending Asim to any potential employer. I am certain you will be rewarded when you put your faith in Asim.

Yours sincerely,

Andrew Jarrett
